Sirens of the 60s celebrates the popular female singers of the sixties including: Dionne Warwick, Nancy Sinatra, Mama Cass, and Barbra Streisand. Colleen Raye of Girl Singers of the Hit Parade, joined by her sister Debby O'Keefe and newcomer Katie Gearty, deliver dynamic vocals, laughs, fun facts, reminiscing and sing-alongs.

Saturday, November 24, 2012 7:30 pm
Monroe Crossing is named in honor of Bill Monroe, "The Father of Bluegrass Music." They will dazzle you with an electrifying blend of classic bluegrass, gospel, and heartfelt originals. Their airtight harmonies, razor sharp arrangements, and on-stage rapport make them audience favorites.

Sunday, February 17, 2013 4 pm
Thüringer Salonquintett is committed to the wonderful central European tradition of light and entertaining music. Transcending notions of "classical" and "popular" music, the quintet combines spontaneous musicality with fun and innovative programming.

Sunday, May 5, 2013 7 pm
Two on Tap marks the creative collaboration of performers Melissa Giattino and Ron DeStefano. Their combined love for the early days of Broadway and tap choreography takes center stage in this hit show. Melissa and Ron will show you why song-and-dance couples like Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers continue to impress.
